Loyalists Make Aerial Attack On Rebel Air Bases

Rebel Troops Claim To Have Gained Foothold In Capital City

OVER 100 DEAD IN MADRID AIR RAIDS

Loyalists Claim Rebel Attempt To Cross "Frenchmen's Bridge" Frustrated

By THOMAS A. LOAYZA
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MADRID, Nov. 16.—Rebel assertions a foothold has been gained by invading troops within the borders of Madrid itself were answered today by a slashing Loyalist aerial attack directed against insurgent air bases. While the capital counted more than 100 dead as a result of week-end air raids, a fleet of Loyalist planes attacked Avila and Torrijos, crippling seven German-made airplanes in the former town. Aircraft hangars were bombed at Torrijos.

Bloody Battle
In an attempt to calm a populace panicked by rebel claims the capital has at least been invaded, the Loyalist Junta issued a communique insisting the invaders were forced to retreat.

"The rebel attempt to cross the 'Frenchmen's bridge' yesterday was in the most violent and bloody of any yet launched," the statement said.

"After a four-hour battle, during which government troops blew up the bridge, the enemy was forced to retire without reaching its objective. Three tanks were put out of action."

Government spokesmen insisted the fliers who bombed Madrid yesterday were German or Italian.

"Spanish insurgent pilots," it was said, "refused to participate in any such massacre."

PA NEW OBSERVES

For the odd sights departments: A man lugging a Christmas tree up Highland avenue hill, last evening.

One didn't have to be a goose-bone forecaster, to note that winter was in our midst yesterday and today. Pa New hopes, however, that the weather man just got his eye-nails mixed and doesn't intend for this to last very long. About an inch and a quarter of snow fell, and conditions were treacherous underfoot.

After being below normal during the early part of the year, automobile fatalities are starting to mount. Coroner Potter has investigated five such deaths in the past two weeks.

New Castle's first Towne party, scheduled for Tuesday evening at the Cathedral, being arranged by the mayor and his committees, will be a feature in the life of the city that should draw a huge crowd.

Despite the forecasts of a mild winter, the first taste of real wintry weather descended on New Castle.

Friends Insist King's Romance Flourishing

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Continued royal courtship of Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson today belied reports King Edward had capitulated to the opposition and was breaking off his friendship with the attractive Baltimore matron.

King Edward, it was learned, discussed with Mrs. Simpson over the week end the make-up of a gala Christmas party planned for his country home, Fort Belvedere.

Romance Flourishing
Friends insist the romance is flourishing instead of dwindling, pointing out that King Edward dined twice at Mrs. Simpson's home in Cumberland Terrace this past week. In addition, Mrs. Simpson was honor guest at Port Belvedere with her aunt, Mrs. D. Berryman, as chaperone.

Other visible evidence of the continued friendship includes:

1—Mrs. Simpson is canceling her projected trip to the Riviera to remain in London.

2—Marked attention paid to her by persons high in society and recognition accorded by the diplomatic set at a Yugoslavian legation concert last week.

3—King Edward's daily floral order for Mrs. Simpson still stands. While the majority of members of

Carl H. Leis Is Taken By Death

Chief Engineer At Johnson Bronze Plant Dies On Sunday

HAD BEEN ILL FOR PAST TWO MONTHS

Death claimed Carl Henry Leis, chief engineer and factory manager of the Johnson Bronze company and one of the district's most prominent engineering leaders, over the week end.

Mr. Leis, aged 45, died at his home at 421 Glenmore boulevard on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, after an illness of almost two months.

Born in Germany, Mr. Leis had come to America in 1913 and after a succession of engineering jobs had assumed the chief engineer's post at the Johnson Bronze plant here. He was well known throughout engineering circles.

He was born in Germany, the son of Louis and Christina Kempf Leis. He first went to Cleveland after arriving from abroad in 1917 and after a short time there accepted a position with the Jones and Laughlin Steel company at Pittsburgh.

Warmer Weather Is Promised Tuesday

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—A word to the wise is sufficient and U. S. meteorologist W. S. Brozman's prediction of the coldest weather of the season for tonight would seem to indicate all western Pennsylvanians would be wise to keep the home fires burning high this evening.

According to Brozman, however, all will be well tomorrow, when he expects it will be "fair and warmer."

President Will Start His Cruise On Wednesday

Will Leave Washington On Tuesday Evening For Ocean Jaunt

LIKELY TO GO TO SOUTH AMERICA

Definite Plans For Trip Not As Yet Announced By President

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Still holding in abeyance until late today a final decision as to whether he will go to South America or confine his forthcoming cruise to a fishing jaunt in waters closer to the United States, President Roosevelt worked through a busy schedule of engagements this morning, and planned to meet with his cabinet this afternoon.

A conference of mayors was to be held immediately after lunch. Mr. Roosevelt in any event expects to leave Washington tomorrow night and board the cruiser Indianapolis Wednesday morning.

Probably To Make Trip

It was considered probable he would make a fast run to Buenos Aires, arriving there in time to participate in opening the Inter-American Peace Conference, and stopping enroute at Port-Au-Spain, Trinidad, and Rio de Janeiro. Another good-will stop probably will be made at Montevideo if the South American cruise materializes.

The president will be accompanied on his cruise only by his son James; Edward Gallagher, a business associate of the elder Roosevelt boy, and the naval and military aides, Capt. Paul Bastardo and Col. Edwin M. Watson.

Between tomorrow and Christmas, the president's only engagement in Washington is the girdiron dinner on Dec. 21. He will be back for the function.

Bandits Raid Private Club At Pittsburgh

Force Patrons To Disrobe As They Take Loot Of $1,000 And Make Getaway

SECOND HOLDUP OF LIKE MANNER

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—The latest chapter of the stirring Pittsburgh saga "gunman, spare my pants" was being investigated by city police today in the wake of the holdup of a score of patrons of a private club here Sunday, in which a gang of armed bandits escaped with loot estimated at $1,000 in cash and jewels.

Following the procedure which has become distressingly familiar hereabouts in the past several months, the gunmen, variously said to number four and seven, walked into the Twenty-second Ward Political and Social club, one holding a sawed-off shotgun, the other revolvers.

Everyone present was forced to strip off his pants and face the wall (Continued On Page Two)

Father Burns Escapes From Chinese Bandits

(International News Service)
MUKDEN, Nov. 16.—Father Burns, American Roman Catholic missionary, escaped today under thrilling circumstances from bandits who had held him captive for more than nine months.

Father Burns was captured near Tunkhua last February 5. The bandits quickly outdistanced pursuing troops and took the priest into the mountains.

Today the troops finally caught up with the bandits, and engaged them in battle. During the furious fighting Father Burns escaped.

The priest is associated with the Maryknoll College of Tarrytown, N. Y. Details of his long captivity were not immediately available.

Miller Shoots Another Fox

For the second consecutive year R. J. Miller of 308 Vine street is one of the proudest hunters in Lawrence county. Last season Miller managed to bag a most attractive red fox, an unusual animal in this county—in fact, in the district. He had the fur converted into a beautiful neck-piece which Mrs. Miller now sports.

Hunting along the Slippery Rock creek several days ago, Miller spotted another red fox prancing along the scenic beauty of the creek. Three shots later and the fox was Mr. Miller's. It measured 42 inches from tip to tip. This year's prize catch, will be another fur-piece in a few weeks. Miller said. The Vine street sharpshooter also brought down a horned owl on the same day.

Bagging two red foxes in two years is one of the most unusual hunting feats in the history of the county.

Bandits Rob Store Sunday

Customers And Clerks Are Robbed As Well As Store Cash Register

REPORT LOOT TOTALS MORE THAN $237

Three bandits with drawn revolvers, accompanied by a man and young woman "look-out" at 9:10 p. m. Sunday, held up and robbed the New Castle drug company store, North Mill street, a customer and a clerk of a total of $237.00, then escaped through Sycamore way, according to police. The bandits are believed to have been of foreign nationality.

Three bandits entered the store first. The man and young woman look-out, stood across the street and followed them into the drug store, according to reports. Four clerks and five customers were ordered into a rear room. None of the bandits was masked and they proceeded deliberately with the hold-up.

One hundred and fifty-two dollars was taken from the cash register and $80.00 was taken from I. G. Wilkinson, 1902 Highland avenue, a customer, police report. One of

Wage Increase At Johnson Bronze Plant Announced

Approximates Ten Per Cent For The 600 Or More Employees Of The Plant

Following the lead of the steel industry, the Johnson Bronze Company has put a general raise into effect for all of the 600 or more employees in the plant, according to P. J. Flaherty, president. The raise is effective today, November 16.

While the raise varies with different occupations, the effect of it generally is an approximate ten per cent, Mr. Flaherty said. Increased business and the increased cost of living are responsible for the increase to employees.

Business at the present time is good, Mr. Flaherty said. He has just returned from a business trip through the west. The demand for bushings and the other products of the local plant has increased most encouragingly in the past sixty days.

Four New Castle High School Students Named For All-State Chorus

Four students of the New Castle senior high school have been accepted for the All-State chorus which will perform in Ebensburg, Pa., November 19-20-21, according to an announcement today by Joe P. Replogle, director of music for the senior high school. The acceptance of the four has been made by Gordon Williams, chairman of Pennsylvania's first All-State chorus.

The four students who will represent New Castle in the chorus are Sara Nitsche, soprano; Dorothy Frey, alto; Fred Riley, tenor; and Franklin Rice, bass. The All-State chorus something new in scholastic circles, will be composed of 200

New Castle Firemen Called To East Brook District This Afternoon

REPORT SECOND COTTAGE DAMAGED

(BULLETIN)

New Castle firemen at 2 o'clock this afternoon were called to Lakewood Beach, where one cottage was reported to be in flames and another close by it was said to be in danger.

Lakewood district residents said the doomed structure is the "Hughes cottage" which stands at the bridge near the entrance of Lakewood's grounds.

Towne Meeting Program Will Attract Throng

Expect Huge Crowd Will Witness Program In Cathedral Tuesday Night

TEAM WORKERS TO HAVE EARLY SESSION

Towne Meeting Program To Include Large Number Of Local Performers

New Castle's 1936 Community Chest campaign to finance the work of eight of the city's most prominent social and welfare agencies during 1937 will be launched at a rousing "kick off" dinner celebration of almost 400 team workers in the Cathedral on Tuesday night.

The dinner, scheduled for 6:30 o'clock, will precede the colorful "Towne party" which Mayor Charles E. McGrath and a representative committee of workmen of the city's industrial plants have planned as a novel side feature for the opening of the drive.

A goal of $60,370 will be sought by the campaigners between tomorrow night and Tuesday, November 24, the week set aside for the general solicitation.

Since the organization of the drive nearly two weeks ago, a prominent group of New Castle men and women has been contacting residents and soliciting the larger campaign contributions.

Wage Increase Now In Effect

Ten Per Cent Raise For Steel Workers Starts Today

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—All but 15,000 of the more than 50,000 employees of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation in the Pittsburgh district went to work today at wages increased by 10 per cent.

Virtually all the nation's steel companies granted similar wage increase, effective today.

Affects All Employees
The general 10 per cent wage increase granted to the 100,000 employees of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation was extended by the management today to all its employees, including those who declined to accept the one-year contract clause.

In a statement addressed to all plants and employees this afternoon, the corporation announced:

"The proposed wage increase coupled with the adjustment of occupational rates and based upon the cost of living formula which you and the management have been considering for some time has received the hearty approval of a great majority of the plants and the employees of this company and therefore will be the policy of the management in all plants of the company effective Monday, November 16, for a period of one year."

Arthur Mometer

While there's nothing can be done about the weather, by amendment or by statutory act, or by squawking as we go about our business, I must confess that it remains a fact, that the winter isn't what I'd like to order, and icy highways aren't a lot of fun, now me if I were all our weather, I'd have it mostly summer days with sun. But it seems there's nothing I can do about it, by protest or by anything I say, so there's only one thing left and that to take it, it's cold and down to thirty-six today.

PROBE CALIFORNIA MYSTERY

Fail To Locate 'Death' Bullet

Re-Enact Mysterious Death Of Reid Russell, 28, In California

SEVERAL POINTS ARE NOT CLEAR

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16.—A re-enactment of the mysterious death of Reid Russell, 28-year-old automobile salesman, high lighted investigation of the tragedy today.

By tracing the known movements of Russell up to the time his body was found in a garden swing on the estate of his friends, Gouverneur Morris, internationally famous novelist and Mrs. Morris, authorities hoped to determine definitely whether he shot himself while despondent or was the victim of a carefully planned murder.

Bullet Not Found

Meanwhile interest centered on the missing bullet that crashed through Russell's head, killing him almost instantly. It constituted the big question mark, investigators said, in a case that might normally be written off as a suicide.

Russell's body lay face turned to the sky, on the garden swing, an automatic pistol, clutched in the right hand. One theory is Russell sat down, shot himself through the head and then collapsed on the swing. But the bullet, which passed through his head and emerged behind the left ear has not been found.

Police did dig from the padded side of the swing a .22 calibre bullet, but the one that killed Russell was of .32 calibre, they pointed out.

Mrs. Grace E. Steadman, director of music at Mansfield State Teachers college; Van Christy, director of music at Indiana State Teachers college; representatives of New York university, Susquehanna university, Juniata college, Grove City college and Lebanon Valley college will address the assembled supervisors and students on subjects pertaining to choral work.

Five scholarships will be awarded at the state concert. Awards will be made by New York university, Susquehanna university, Lebanon Valley college, Grove City college and Juniata college. Concerts will be given on Friday afternoon, November 20, and Saturday evening, November 21.

Schedule Of Events.

The students will report at Ebensburg on Thursday, November 19, at 10 a. m. for registration, voice testing and seating. At 1:30 p. m. full rehearsal will be held. The afternoon will be taken up with social and recreational activities and at 7 o'clock a full rehearsal will be held. At 8:30 either a dance or musical program will be held.

Friday morning at 9 the scholarship tests will take place and a full rehearsal will be held at 1 o'clock and at 3:30 a matinee will be held. At 7 o'clock another full rehearsal and at 8:30 a variety program. Saturday morning a full rehearsal will be held at 9 o'clock, another at 11, a directors' clinic at 1:30, full rehearsals at 2 and 4 o'clock and the concert at 8.

Some time in February the state orchestra will be gathered at a place to be announced later. New Castle expects to be represented in this also.

CARL H. LEIS IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Soon after that he returned to Cleveland again and on October 6, 1917 married Charlotte R. Poeschel, his wife, who survives him. On December 1, 1921 he came to New Castle to become the chief engineer of the Johnson Bronze company.

Visited In Germany

In August of this year Mr. Leis, with his daughter Henrietta, visited at his native home in Germany, the first time he had been back in 23 years.

Surviving him besides his wife are his daughter, Henrietta, and a son, Edward H., both at home. Another son, Carl E., preceded him in death in 1935.

Surviving also are two sisters, Mrs. Augusta Webber and Mrs. Emma Webber, both of Germany.

Mr. Leis was a member of the Dover Masonic Lodge at Dover, O., and was a member and past president of the Mahoning-Shenango Valley Engineer's society here. He was also a member of the German Beneficial Union.

The body, it was announced today, may be viewed at the home at 421 Glenmore boulevard up until noon on Wednesday, November 18 and funeral services will be held from the Burks Funeral Home on Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. Interment will be in the Oak Park cemetery mausoleum.

BANDITS ROB STORE SUNDAY

the bandits took $5.00 from the purse of Helen Carpenter, a clerk. After completing the holdup, the bandits left, walking west through Sycamore way.

Bandits Escape

The hold-up occurred at 9:10 p. m. and at 9:14 p. m. a telephone call reached police headquarters. Within a minute two cruiser cars darted to the store. However, the bandits and their girl companion disappeared before their arrival. No trace of an automobile speeding away was found.

The persons on duty at the drug store were Manager Charles Bees, Helen Carpenter, Mrs. Margaret Boyles and Paul T. Turco.

The customers forced into a rear room were Ruth Day, 708 Emerson avenue; Dorothy Beckwith, 522 West Washington street; Harry Ward, Sr., 426 Norwood avenue; Hazel Huston, 431 Winter avenue; and I. G. Wilkison, 1902 Highland avenue.

All of the bandits and their girl companion were young. Descriptions were obtained by police. An all-night search followed. However, no trace of the thieves was found.

Some believe the bandits may have been some of the gang which participated in the $615.00 hold-up at the bus terminal, public square, one week ago Saturday. One arrest developed from that hold-up. The man arrested is Paul Ziunko of Youngstown. He was identified, according to police, by two witnesses and has been charged by police with armed robbery. He pleaded not guilty and will receive a hearing before Alderman O. H. P. Green, November 18.

Similar Robbery At Youngstown

Another angle that made local police believe that the bandits may have been from Ohio was due to a report from that city that five persons were herded Sunday night in the rear of the McConnell & Schrag drug store, South Side Youngstown and three bandits fled with $125.00.

The robbery was perpetrated as scores of persons passed by the store which is located on North Hill street. The New Castle Drug store here is situated on North Hill street, in a section travelled by many persons and automobiles.

Like the bandits here, none of the Youngstown thugs was masked. One of them approached a girl clerk and the other two flashed guns and forced the clerk and four customers into a rear room of the Youngstown pharmacy.

They took the money and fled on foot. This was in the identical manner in which the bandits fled from the New Castle store.

FRIENDS INSIST KING'S ROMANCE FLOURISHING

the church and Tory group affirm the king will not marry Mrs. Simpson, others are not convinced, asking why the palace does not issue an official or unofficial denial, the easiest and simplest way to silence all reports to the contrary.

Behind King

International News Service has learned King Edward's court retinue is solidly behind the king. The subject of his marriage to Mrs. Simpson is no longer discussed by the royal family, but whether this is at the request of the king or for other reasons is not known.

Court circles denied today that any significance attached to the fact none of the royal dukes was present during the king's address opening parliament. The Duchess of Kent, formerly Princess Marina of Greece, was indisposed, while the others were fulfilling necessary social duties.

Numerous other reports of differences between King Edward and those close to him met with denials in authoritative sources. One was that King Edward had suggested at a recent privy council meeting that Mrs. Simpson be raised to the peerage and that the council had walked out. It was also denied King Edward has asked the archbishop of Canterbury whether he would perform the marriage and that the prelate answered he would resign his high office first.

"Contrary to reports," a highly-placed cleric of the Church of England told this correspondent, "there is no sharpness between the archbishop and the king. Both understand each other's position."

Deaths of the Day

J. E. Longshore

J. E. Longshore, aged 72 years, resident of Salem, O. died yesterday at the Butler avenue extension home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. O'Neill. Mrs. O'Neill was Mr. Longshore's stepdaughter.

Mr. Longshore, who was born near Salem on February 1, 1864, had spent most of his lifetime in that district. He had been employed by the Salem Tool company for years and had continued at work up until last October 10. Since that time his health had been failing.

Surviving him are his wife, Jennie Longshore, residing in Salem; a son, Dr. W. E. Longshore, and three granddaughters, Peggy, Joan and Nancy Longshore, all of Orville. Two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Kyser, Salem, and Mrs. Catherine Kilbreath, Columbiana, O., are also left. Two brothers, Charles, Alliance, O., and Jesse E., Youngstown, also survive. Three stepdaughters also remain and they are Mrs. O'Neill, at whose home Mr. Longshore died, Mrs. W. A. Hanna and Mrs. C. M. Rose, all of New Castle.

Mr. Longshore was preceded in death by his first wife, Emma; a son, Ernest, and an infant daughter. He was a member of the Salem Methodist Episcopal church.

Funeral services will be conducted tonight at 7 o'clock at the O'Neill home on Butler avenue extension. On Tuesday the funeral party will leave for Orville, O., where services will be conducted at 2 o'clock from the home of Dr. W. E. Longshore. Mr. Longshore's son, Interment will be in Crown Hill cemetery there.

George Funeral.

Funeral services for the late Anthony George were conducted at 9:30 this morning from his late residence at 814 South Hill street with Rev. Fr. Nicholas Dimitta in charge. Father Dimitta officiated at the services in the home because of special services in St. Vitus church, and on Wednesday, November 18, at 8 a. m., will conduct mass in St. Vitus church.

Burial was made in St. Vitus cemetery.

Pallbearers serving were Fred Maciarello, Carmen Benincase, Charles Richards, Charles Foster, Nick Casalandra and Joseph Carmucci.

Mrs. Ella E. Rote.

Mrs. Ella E. Rote, aged 75, widow of A. M. Rote, died at her home at 211 Patterson avenue at 6:10 o'clock on Saturday evening. Death resulted from complications.

Mrs. Rote's husband preceded her in death last September 29. She was born at Mount Holly, Pa. on March 28, 1861, the daughter of John and Elizabeth Ward. She had resided in New Castle for 38 years.

She was a member of the Wesley M. E. church, and a life member of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Surviving her are three sons, Galen, Sandusky, O., and John C. and Howard J. of New Castle. One daughter, Mrs. Emma Cavender, this city, also survives. Ten grandchildren among them Ella Faller, who made her home with Mrs. Rote, are also left.

Funeral services will be held from the late residence at 211 Patterson avenue on Tuesday, November 17 at 2:30 p. m. Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Martha McKarnes Funeral.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Martha Power McKarnes, of 399 Nevada avenue, were held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Offutt Funeral home on North Mercer street. Dr. J. McIlwaine, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was in charge of the services.

Burial was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Eva Osborne Jacobs Eiler.

Mrs. Eva Osborne Jacobs Eiler, aged 72, of Shenango township, died at her residence along R. F. D. 7, on Saturday, November 14, at 6:30 p. m. after a short illness. She was the wife of Edward Eiler.

Born in Stoneboro, Pa., on June 26, 1864, the daughter of Ephraim and Amelia Osborne, Mrs. Eiler had resided in Lawrence county for the past 40 years.

Mrs. Eiler was married to Herbert L. Jacobs at Hendersonville, O. November 25, 1881, and three daughters were born to that union. They were Mrs. Harry Shaw, Mrs. Oscar M. Saul and Olive Jacobs, who died May 29, 1907. Mr. Jacobs died October 22, 1895. On October 25, 1900, she married E. W. Eiler, who survives. One daughter from that union, Mrs. Elton McClintock, R. F. D. 7 also survives. One brother, Elmer Osborne, Sandy Lake, is also left. Eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren also survive.

She was a member of the Wesley M. E. church.

Funeral services will be held on Tuesday, November 17 at 10 a. m., from the residence in Shenango township. Interment will be in Jackson Center cemetery.

Mrs. Sarah Grinnen Funeral.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Sarah Grinnen were conducted from her home in Wampum, Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. George Herbert sang two numbers, "Sometime We'll Understand," and "Abide With Me."

Five of Mrs. Grinnen's sons, Elmer, Gus, William, Robert and John and W. Grinnen, were pallbearers. Her grandsons were flower boys.

Interment was made in Clinton cemetery.

Stephen Kellender Funeral.

This morning at 9 o'clock in St. Monica church, Wampum, impressive funeral services were accorded the late Stephen Kellender. The Rev. Fr. Maloney officiated.

Members of Mr. Kellender's lodge were pallbearers. He was buried in Hoytdale cemetery.

BANDITS RAID PRIVATE CLUB AT PITTSBURGH

while the visitors went through their pockets. The gang fled while the victims struggled back into their clothes.

Three club members were slugged over the head with revolver butts when the leader of the gang suspected they were not acting as docile as desired. All three were treated for head lacerations and discharged.

Meanwhile, pressing the search for the robbers, police inspector Joseph L. Walker announced he had closed the club and lifted its charter pending investigation. He indicated his department had received several complaints against it.

Believed Same Gang

From descriptions of the bandits given detectives, police were led to believe it was the same gang who have pulled off divers "pans" robberies at private clubs within past weeks.

A gang held up the well known political America Club two months ago in much the same fashion. When the robbery was not reported, police acting on inside "tips" investigated, closed the club and arrested several of its officers, all of whom are now awaiting trial on charges of withholding information about a robbery.

PA NEW OBSERVES

and Lawrence County Sunday, much earlier than in recent years. During most of the day there was a snow of mild blizzard proportions, and in many places the highways froze and became rather treacherous for traffic.

* * *

Out on the Perry highway and other highways of the district motorists had trying experiences last night. Many highways were coated with a sheet of ice and until state highway trucks scattered ashes on the hills, movement was paralyzed. A local doctor called Pa Newc to tell him that between Portersville and the Dixie Inn corner on the Perry highway he counted 186 cars in one solid line, all headed towards Portersville. He said he didn't count "the little lines." He said truckmen who were in the line helped the state men in spreading ashes and speeded the movement up a lot.

* * *

Highland avenue hill was as treacherous as any hill in the city last night. One autoist lost control of his vehicle and was saved by the curb as he was driving downtown. Along the New Castle-Youngstown road at least six automobiles were either in a ditch or upset.

* * *

Again efficiency of the News Classifieds scores a hit. One evening last week, Mrs. W. C. Powers of the Mt. Jackson road, picked up a big suitcase which was lying on the highway near Mahoningtown. Identification was impossible, but acting instinctively, she turned to the Classifieds as soon as the paper was out the following day, and sure enough, the loser had advertised. He was a man from Cincinnati, hurrying to catch his train, and the case had dropped off the running board of the car. When Mrs. Powers contacted him a little later, he returned to the city and claimed his property.

HEAVY SNOW IN PARTS OF STATE

est-Mercer-Venango-Warren district, where the fall ranged from three to eight inches. In the six counties, 322 men and 118 trucks were at work clearing roads.

Centre, Clearfield, Clinton, Cameron, Elk, McKean and Potter counties had from one to two inches of snow, with 204 men and 58 trucks on duty. A similar snowfall brought out 310 men and 105 trucks in Armstrong, Butler, Clarion and Jefferson counties, the department said. Cambria county, with two inches of snow, had 97 men and 21 trucks out at work. Light crews were sent out in other western counties also.

The lowest temperature reported to the department was 18 degrees above zero at Somerset.

With the first blast of cold weather and snow one cannot help but realize that Christmas is drawing near very fast.

OUTSTANDING REASONS

WHY MORE AND MORE PEOPLE ARE USING SMITH'S CLEANING SERVICE

Distilled Solvent

A continuous flow of 100% distilled cleaning solvent, free from grease and other impurities, not only cleans gently and thoroughly—but restores the original brightness of your garments. A 400-gallon vacuum distillation system, one of the largest of its kind, was recently installed in our plant to assure you of the finest quality cleaning.

Spotting

If the first cleaning has failed to remove spots, garments are then sent to the spotting department where expert chemists study their nature and apply a solvent which will remove them without injury to fabric. This service is essential to high quality cleaning, particularly when it applies to delicate garments.

New Silk Unit

A specially designed silk unit, with heat control, recently installed by Smith's, enables us to produce the finest finishing service on cellanese, rayon and other delicate silk fabrics with absolute safety. It is guaranteed to bring out the lustre and beauty of your silk garments.

Nu-Life Process

NU-LIFE TO EVERY GARMENT is similar to a process used in the manufacture of all new fabrics. It was developed exclusively for Smith's and is used on all garments WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE.

FLOWER SHOW FINE SUCCESS

Working most of Sunday, employees of the various exhibitors at the Northwestern Pennsylvania Florists' Association flower show in the Cathedral removed their exhibits and today the Cathedral is back to normal.

Flowers that were still good were divided among the hospitals and the churches Sunday and the ones too full blown to be of use were carted to the city dump.

With the show now history, the association members and the local sponsors are delighted with the success of the venture. According to exhibitors and the visiting florists it was the finest show ever presented by the association and in many ways rivalled national shows.

Fur Service

Furs are cleaned the furrier's way by our "Polar Bear" method, which includes oil treatment and electric fur glazing combined with the Landle steaming process. This department, in charge of an experienced furrier, offers you amazing results on both short and long nap fur garments. Also altering, repairing, relining and worn edges matched up.

Formpress Service

With our battery of Grid Head Presses we press your clothes to fit your form, restoring the original shape. Every exclusive clothing manufacturer uses this new improved system. No other service can give you the same satisfactory results of Formpressing. Used exclusively in New Castle by Smith's.

Repairs

All garments are thoroughly examined for minor rips, tears and missing buttons. Any necessary repairs are made in our own tailoring department before garments are pressed. Relining and altering neatly done.

Insurance

Every garment or rug is covered by a Bailey Insurance policy. When you send your garment to Smith's you can relieve your mind of all worry as to safety.

Delivery Service

Our service trucks go past your home every day in New Castle and surrounding territory. Emergency one-day service delivery is maintained without extra charge. Garments are delivered in dustproof bags.

FAITH

SOME ADVANTAGES THAT NEW CASTLE HAS

We wonder if the people of New Castle and vicinity realize that there are 14 or more ambulances owned by the funeral directors of New Castle, which are always ready to serve the public in time of sickness or accident. But there is no one, single firm in New Castle, who does enough of ambulance business to always have a man standing or sitting at the wheel ready to answer a call within two or three minutes after they are called. The reason there is a little delay sometimes is on account of the ambulance either being out, the driver eating his meals, or maybe not dressed suitable to start out on an ambulance trip.

The ambulance work is one of the most losing propositions that a funeral director has today. Every time he takes his ambulance out it costs him $11.00 and he receives, when he gets it, which is only about 40% of the trips he makes, the sum of $5.00. Time and time again he is called by someone excited, to an accident, driving his ambulance at a reckless speed, endangering the lives of those on the highway, and when he gets there they are either not badly hurt or have been picked up by someone in an auto and taken to the hospital, and the owner of the ambulance pays the bill.

Butler, our neighboring city, has one ambulance and the people wait for it, if it is busy, sometimes as much as an hour. In the cities where hospitals own and operate ambulances they just never know when they will arrive when called, and when they do, some of them are not fit to ride in.

The funeral directors are the only profession that do not have office hours. They can be called 24 hours a day; therefore people are always able to call an ambulance. Doctors have office hours and quite often it is much harder to get a doctor than it is an ambulance. We have tried this ourselves and know.

In calling an ambulance, whether it be the family or the physician, if it does not arrive in about two minutes after you call, or as soon as you expect, do not prance around and threaten to call another one and fuss about the service, because that is the worst thing you can do for your patient, as you make them think that they are much worse than they probably are.

This explanation is made in order to clear some things that have come up in times past when ambulances have been called, and if the hospitals would receive same, the funeral directors would gladly donate an ambulance to each of them and to away with ambulance service among funeral directors.

WE DO NOT LEND OR RENT OUR CHAIRS. THEY ARE FOR FUNERAL WORK ONLY.

HAVE YOU THE UTMOST FAITH IN YOUR FUNERAL DIRECTOR?

If there is one thing more than another that characterizes Leyde Funeral Service it is UNDERSTANDING. This applies equally to the things that should and shouldn't be done.

MEN'S GARDEN CLUB ENJOYS SUNDAY HIKE

A group of the hardier members of the Men's Garden club took the scheduled hike on Sunday, the inclement weather notwithstanding. In fact, it was agreed by those who participated that the snow and blustery winds enhanced rather than detracted from the occasion.

The party departed from the intersection of Butler avenue and Cascade street at one-thirty, and drove to the entrance of the canyon to Eckert's Mills. Afoot they descended into the ravine, crossed the Slippery Rock and continued up the hillside to Breakneck bridge. There they paused to view the vistas extending in all directions, a variable fairland of snow-covered hemlock ferns, American Yew, many deciduous trees and the ever-present rocks.

A descent to the creek bottom was again negotiated, this time across country, through pathless forests, the unfolding scenes drawing more than one exclamation of delight from the various individuals. No wind penetrated the depths of the ravine so that the falling snow converted everything it touched into things of beauty. Surely nature was in one of its most generous moods. Pauses were made at intervals to identify a tree, a frozen flower stalk, fungi and the wealth of mosses and lichens. Some tasted for the first time the tangy flavor of black birch twigs, and viewed the red berries of the American Yew.

Back to the covered bridge, via streamside, the group wended its way and the delightful two-hour hike was at an end; a treat better than any man-made one and costing nothing. It was regretful that more were not present. It is well to remember that a lover of the outdoors should go out in all seasons, and all weathers. If one has not, he has missed something; for unless influenced by stern necessity there will be days when you do not go out—and those days are the grandest.

Another hike in the near future will be announced and will be conducted regardless of the weather.

Too Many Apologies.
Hope for Untouchables.
Seven Hundred Books.
More Planes for England.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

GENERAL MARKHAM, chief army engineer, advises putting an air base in the harbor of our Midway Island, far away in the Pacific ocean. The War Department says, apologetically, that this would be a commercial development, although it might be useful for defense.

Why any apology? Nobody in Europe, Asia or Africa apologizes to us for building an air base, or asks our opinion about it.

The War Department says there is no treaty obligation forbidding such an air base. If there were, what of it? Treaties can be cancelled and should be when they are foolish or unjust—for further details, ask Hitler.

EVEN IN INDIA, where the word "liberty" was not printed in any dialect during 5,000 years, public opinion had some effect. The Maharajah of Travancore, 24 years old, young enough to read newspapers, is a good Hindu, but discovers that the caste system with its oppression of the millions of "untouchables" can be overcome. His announcement that starts India's old Gods reads: "We have decided, and hereby declare, ordain and command" and goes on to announce that all Hindus, regardless of birth, shall be admitted to the temples, whence the miserable low caste untouchables have been hitherto excluded.

THE UNTOUCHABLES celebrate this news with joyous thanksgiving demonstrations lasting all day, although, presumably, they will still cross to the other side of the street when a high caste Hindu approaches, that the breath of the untouchable may not pollute the Brahmin's breathing.

"OUTSTANDING LEADERS" in American Life and Letters" have made a list of seven hundred books that "should be in every American home library." Some American homes may be glad of the suggestion that they may get quite well with only seventy odd of the 700 books mentioned, apart from those to be read purely for amusement. ## BROKE—BUT NOT BROKEN

He told me he was broke. But he smiled when he said it. A few years ago, he said, he had a business and some money in the bank and some investments.

He figured he was "all set". Now his possessions have faded away. He struggled to keep them, but they got away from him. All he had now was a job and—hope. A few years ago he had a family. A wife and two children. He and his wife were fairly happy together and the children seemed happy, too, though they were always asking for things.

He still had the wife and children and they were happier than they had ever been. Not superficially happy, but happier than ever, deep inside where it counts the most. And somehow they were closer together. They had taken the children into their confidence more lately. And together they seemed more of a real family now—instead of four people each in a separate groove.

Times had been tough, he said. No use kidding himself about that. He'd never have chosen the experience of the past few years. He wouldn't have had the courage or wisdom to do it. He'd have tried to learn what he knows now in some other, easier way. . . . He was scarred and perhaps his family was scarred, too, by the things they had endured. You cannot worry and dread the future for your family without paying for it. And pretty heavily, too.

But he had love. He had the respect of his family. He had courage left. He hadn't lost his grip. He had gained more real knowledge about life. He had had a lot of the nonsense knocked out of his head. He didn't ask as much for himself as he did a few years ago. He told me he was broke— But he didn't sound like a man who had been broken.

(International News Service)
KIRKLAND, Ill.—G. W. Ault, turkey fancier, looks at his flock of 7500 gobblers with a tear in his eye and observes: "I really get fond of them and hate to sell them when Thanksgiving comes around. But they're not smart like horses, in fact I think they're the dumbest things I ever saw."

OAKLAND, Cal.—Upton Sinclair, novelist, discusses "plot" to assassinate him if elected California governor in 1934: "I was to be crucified, made the paschal lamb in sacrifice to those who opposed the epic and production for use movements."

SAN FRANCISCO—John Francis Neylan, attorney, toasts the San Francisco-Oakland bridge: "Those who think will see it as a sermon in steel, a modern version of the sermon on the mount."

CHICAGO—Emil Ludwig, famous biographer, predicts the explosion of the European powder keg: "The coming war will be a battle royal, with revolutions springing up like prairie fires and wars within wars."

Winter Resorts Ready.
Look For Large Crowds.
Vacations Becoming Effort.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

What a winter this will be for winter resorts! Already the reservations are being made. And special winter trains to Florida will begin operating three weeks earlier than last year.

Florida is not the only place. There are steamship tours galore, there is Arizona, there is California, there is Hawaii.

Trains are splendid, steamers are luxurious, hotels are elaborate. But is there any place satisfying to anyone desiring a rest?

ABANDON GONE

Americans have lost the sense of abandon. Their nervous strain continues at their "rest" resorts. Everything is cut to a pattern, put to a schedule and rushed through. This winter the pace at the resorts will be stepped higher than ever—"something" but nothing worth while doing every minute.

What will become of a nation physically and culturally that causes even a vacation to be an effort?

Will such a nation survive—we mean, will it leave any heritages to antiquity?

We think of the Greece and the Italy of art, of the Germany of music, of the England of poetic drama. Produced you will say, amidst personal insecurity. Ah, yes, but not in neurotic fury. Nothing worth while can come out of neurotic fury. Insecurity, on the other hand, goads a man on.

INSECURITY

The world's greatest masterpieces have been produced amidst insecurity. The security that the modern world offers to a successful author or actor brings on a stiffness that stifles genius.

And the made-to-order vacations, full of stupid and expensive gestures, dull our senses and bring on stupidity and—actually—nervous breakdowns.

A close friend of ours returned from a southern "rest" place last year to take to her bed to recover. She is in search of a less-exacting, yet comfortable, place for this winter.

POOH-POOHING

You say, if a person has money enough to go to a balmy place in winter, why worry about her, or him?

But do you not realize that of the tens of thousands of persons who now go on winter vacations, the majority are middle-class folk like ourselves?

These people need vacations, they need relaxation, pleasure and change.

Do not pooh-pooh them. We ourselves are looking for a place to go.

TRAINS

It's strange—the part of the trip we like best is on board train. Western trains, Arizona-bound.

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD Copyright 1936 Central Press

MONDAY, NOV. 16

Notable Nativities—Laurence Tibbett, b. 1895, opera-radio-screen singer. He was turned down for the high school glee club, proved it wasn't necessary for a musical education to be obtained in Europe. . . . George S. Kaufman, b. 1889, prolific dramatist—Of Thee I Sing, Stage Door, etc. . . . Dikran Kouyoumdjian, b. 1895, Armenian-Bulgarian-British novelist known as Michael Arlen. . . . Sir Oswald Mosley, b. 1896, British Fascist leader. . . . Jesse W. Metcalf, b. 1860, senator from Rhode Island. . . . George Seldes, b. 1890, journalist. . . . Leon Daudet, b. 1867, French royalist leader.

Today's Yesterdays, Nov. 16, 1865—First issue of the bi-weekly Oxford Gazette, the first regular newspaper published in English, appeared under the editorship of Henry Muddiman and Joseph Williamson. It was an official publication devoted to state announcements, and it was begun at Oxford because the court had fled there from London to escape plague. Because it was the court circular, sent to the far corners of the kingdom, it was one of the first, if not the first newspaper to be circulated in the American colonies.

Nov. 16, 1839—William Friend DeMorgan was born in London, the son of Augustus DeMorgan, English mathematician and logician. He was sixty-four years old and a retired business potter man before he began the long and successful writing career that was to make him a notable figure in English literature. (His first novel, "Joseph Vance," was published 30 years ago this month.)

Nov. 16, 1869—The waters of the Mediterranean, the Nile and the Red Sea mingled, and traffic began to move through the 90 miles of Suez Canal.

You're wrong if you believe that this was the first canal to make the water trip around the African continent unnecessary. The Nile was linked to the Red Sea via a lake Thinsah as early as 1300 B. C. It was rebuilt several times, and was used down until the 7th century A. D., when the Caliph Omar opposed removal of the shifting sands which had blocked it, on the ground that if Allah had wanted a waterway there, he would have provided it.

Nov. 16 In State Histories: 1780—The first paid advertisement appeared in an American newspaper, the Massachusetts Spy, published at and California-bound, are especially to our liking. We are not among those to attack American railroads. We believe there is none to equal them elsewhere. Their service is better, usually, than the hotels to which one goes.

Aside from the comfort and service of American trains, there is another reason we feel relaxed on them: There is the informality of vacation spirit aboard them. There is none of the stuffiness that prevails in the $7-$20-a-day hotels. There is more American homelike-goodness in them.

Maybe we'd better take our vacation entirely on trains in order to relax. (We hope the railroads never put on hostesses, as have the boat lines. Some time we'll say what we think of hostesses.)

FATHER OF THE GROOM

(The father of the groom is merely a guest at the wedding. Strangers are under no obligation to speak to him.)

—Miss Emily Post.

Should you see him in the room. In an atmosphere of gloom. You are not obliged to say: "Lovely wedding!" Go your way. Hurry on to quaff the punch. Hasten by to grab the lunch! In his tails and fancy vest He is just another guest— Just the father of the groom!

If you etiquette you've learned. You don't need to feel concerned. For that lonely man who stands Idly fumbling with his hands; Needn't stop to ask his name; If you snub him, none will blame. Rights by him are not possessed. He is just another guest— Just the father of the groom.

This I find the case will be. In a few short months with me. By the women I've been told. I'm the shorn lamb of the fold. Mine's a very humble post. With no perquisites to boast. So you needn't speak to me. Just another guest I'll be— Just that father of the groom.

Bible Thought For Today

If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men. —Romans 12:18.

Pure friendship is something which men of an inferior intellect can never taste.—La Bruyere.

Winchester, 1884—The first newspaper syndicate was organized by S. S. McClure, to enable even the smallest newspaper to give their readers the work of the finest writer and artist. . . . 1914—The Federal Reserve System began operation.

It's True—An English surgeon, Samford, married the daughter of an English minister, Bowles, who in turn married the daughter of Samford; so the women could say "These are our fathers, our sons and our husbands!"

Eddie Aune fought two prize fights in the same evening, and won the Pacific Coast light heavyweight title in the second one.

The horseshoe crab is not a crab. A mixture of soy bean meal and salts will harden steel. (Just think of what some of the mixtures you put into your stomach can do.)

T. J. Stover, Mico, Tex., contributes an interesting note: "It is stated that bees aren't native to America, but were transported here after Columbus' voyage. My grand father, about 1868, at Carterville, Williamson County, Ill., while stripping coal for his blacksmith shop, found encased in a solid block bituminous coal, a perfectly formed piece of petrified bee."

The World's Mud Puddles

ONE WAY. A southern lawyer told me the following yarn of a case that was never tried in court. It illustrates how troubles may be ironed out without due process of law:

"Aunt Lizzie was a good old colored woman, whom I had known for years, and she came to me for advice on any and all subjects, and on all occasions when she was in trouble, when she thought she was about to get into trouble. "She walked into the office one day about two years ago, and I saw she was in distress.

"What is the matter now, Aunt Lizzie?"

"I wants ter know ef dey ain't no jests in he cooperation?"

"By cooperation she meant the municipal corporation."

BEAVER FALLS HIGH NOSES OUT ELLWOOD

Valley Team Comes From Behind To Take 7-6 Victory On Saturday

YOUNG AND KILLIAN SCORE TOUCHDOWNS

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 16.—An inspired Ellwood City High grid team was unable to hold onto a six-point lead garnered in the initial period when Beaver Falls High came through in the third period with a touchdown and an extra point to win 7-6 at Reeve's stadium, Beaver Falls, on Saturday afternoon.

From their performance in the first half the blue and white Wolverines were a greatly improved eleven and gave strong indications that they would come back for the second half more powerful than ever. But they had a complete reversal of form and the home team took control of the situation.

75-Yard Drive

Ellwood fans were delighted when mid-way in the initial stanza their favorites started a 75-yard march up the field that culminated in a touchdown. This featured some fine work by "Russet" Funari, who skirted the ends, hit the line, and went through tackle for consistent gains. He put the Wolverines in a scoring position with a rickety 28-yard jaunt through the center of Beaver Falls' line to place the pigskin on the 13. In four more plays he made another first down on the two-yard line, and then was injured. He was replaced by the injured Bill Young. Snare hit center for a yard and Young crashed over for the touchdown. Keller's placement kick for extra point was blocked.

Tigers Score

The Mitchell men continued to dominate the play for the remainder of the half and had rolled up eight first downs to four. Their showing in the second half disappointed their followers as they were only able to tally one more first down. The Beaver Falls Tigers seemed to have a new lease on life in the second half as they proceeded to take over the play mid-way in the third quarter. Koich had punted over the goal line to give Beaver Falls the ball on their own 20. On the first play Killian ripped through Ellwood's right tackle for ten yards and then found a gaping hole at the other tackle where he darted through and raced through a broken field 70 yards and a touchdown. Jonnet obtained the extra point on a good placement kick, to put the home team out front by the score of 7-6.

It was from this point that the Tigers dominated the play for the remainder of the game. There was not one serious threat by either team. Ellwood tried desperately to score again in the last quarter and used every trick in their bag. But all their efforts were frustrated.

For the victors W. Groom and Marshall did yeoman work in the line, while Killian was the outstanding backfield man. Flanagan, Pishloneri and Keller were best in the Ellwood line, with Funari and

Marian Skewis Weds William E. Frazier

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 16.—A wedding of interest to many in this vicinity was performed on Saturday evening when Miss Marian Skewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Skewis, of 516 Sixth street, and William E. Frazier, son of Mrs. Charles Frazier, of North Sewickley, were united in marriage.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Chester Yeates, pastor of the Third United Presbyterian church of New Castle, at his home in that city.

A stylish ensemble of blue silk crepe with tan accessories was chosen by the bride and she wore a shoulderette of tea roses.

Miss Hilda May Snare, of this city, served the bride as maid of honor and she also wore an ensemble of blue flowered crepe and a corsage of tea roses.

Anthony Latiano, of this city, was the best man.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Frazier are well-known and have a host of friends in this vicinity who wish them much happiness. The bride is a graduate of the Lincoln high school with the class of '32. Mr. Frazier is employed by the National Tube Company.

Dispensing with a wedding trip they will reside for the present at the Skewis home in Sixth street.

Announce Marriage Of Local Couple

Lake Steamer With 23 On Board Is Aground, Coast Guards Standing By

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 16.—With coast guard boats standing by ready for any emergency, the Sidney Smith, 270-foot lake steamer with twenty-three men aboard, was aground in Lake Erie early today less than one hundred feet from the Fairport harbor breakwater, thirty miles east of Cleveland.

The boat was believed in no immediate danger unless it is washed against the breakwater, coast guard officials said. Despite a heavy northwest gale that at times reached forty-eight miles an hour proportions, the vessel stayed on an even keel.

The Tahoma, 165-foot coast guard cutter was called to the scene from Erie, Pa., arriving at 7 a. m. The Tahoma will attempt to float the Sidney Smith as soon as the waves subside.

The Sidney Smith is owned by the Boland and Cornelius company of Buffalo.

A hard-driving taxi driver ignored a red signal, threatened the traffic policemen's knees, missed the street island by a hair and grazed a bus, all in one dash.

The policeman hailed him, then stroled over to the taxi, pulling a red handkerchief from his pocket en route.

"Listen, cowboy," he growled, "On the way back I'll drop this and see if you can pick it up with yer teeth."

Opposes Paving Work In Winter

Proposal To Pave Fairfield, Summer And Hazlecroft Now Opposed

COUNCIL LIKELY TO DECIDE THURSDAY

Following the introduction of bills calling for the grading and paving of Fairfield avenue, Hazlecroft avenue and Sumner avenue, Attorney J. Glenn Berry during councilmanic meeting at city hall this morning emphatically opposed the proposed work this winter in Hazlecroft avenue. Later council indicated that their decision would depend upon the sentiment of persons residing along the three thoroughfares, explaining that the property-owners would be assessed for the improvement.

Attorney Berry said the residents near his dwelling wanted the improvement, but when they signed the petitions had anticipated the work would be done last spring. He recited it would be impossible to have coal delivered to his property, that he otherwise would be inconvenienced and declared it would be a crime to dig up the avenue this winter. He added that with zero weather there would not be much employment on job and doubted an efficient job could be performed.

The bills which were submitted were sent to committee and the council on Thursday may decide their future course. They indicated the sentiment of property-owners would give them something tangible to go upon.

It was explained by City Engineer Glenn R. Throop that the reason for the New Castle Water company keeping just one step ahead of the work was due to a WPA official's statement months ago to the effect that the "WPA could give no assurance that these streets would be paved." However, he said service lines can now be installed and the grading and paving could start next spring.

National Guard Officer Killed, Train Hits Auto

KANE, Pa., Nov. 16.—One highway death and numerous minor automobile crashes were marked up today in this area's first severe snowfall of the season. Six inches of snow had fallen this morning, and showed no signs of letting up. Temperatures hovered below freezing, the low being 21 degrees at 8 a. m.

The dead man was Lieut. Arthur Gillotti, 40, of Company M, 112th regiment of the Pennsylvania National Guard. Lieutenant Gillotti was killed when his sedan skidded at an unprotected crossing, and was struck by the Philadelphia-Erie flyer of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Highway crews were out early to cinder all roads, most of which were ice-coated and plows cleared the snow away.

Report Confession In Child Slaying

Two Hundred Pound Man Confesses Crime In Chicago, Police Say

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—After two days of steady questioning Andrew Capoldi today confessed, according to police, the murder of 8-year-old Antoinette Tirittilli, who was brutally slashed to death in the McLaren school yard Friday night.

Capoldi, a hulking 200-pound man who had a record in sex crime cases, led Supervising Police Captain John Stege to the spot where he had hidden the knife used to stab the little girl when she resisted his advances in the school yard.

When taken in custody Saturday Capoldi denied all knowledge of the girl's murder and maintained his innocence until he broke down today. His description tallied with that given by the little girl before she died of a severed jugular vein.

TOWNE MEETING PROGRAM WILL ATTRACT THROG

year, will speak to the drive teams when they assemble for their opening instructions on Tuesday evening. Other drive leaders, including W. Keith McAfee, president of the Community Chest board of directors and the chairman of the Advanced Gifts committee, will also be heard. After the dinner and the instruction period the workers will move upstairs to the auditorium for the entertaining "Towne party" which will feature the program.

Tuesday Night Meeting
Today Mayor McGrath and the committee group, their days of planning completed, pronounced "the program in fine shape."

From the mills and plants of New Castle has been enlisted the cream of talent, and the evening's master of ceremonies will be none other than Mayor McGrath himself.

Not for a long time has such a community celebration been held—none, at any rate, for a cause so worthy as the Chest.

The mayor's committee made it plain that no solicitation will be made at the "Towne party" and that only entertainment—fun and more fun—would be on the program.

Invitations had gone out to representative groups from the mayor's office in City hall, urging all to have delegations in attendance at the party.

To Start At 8 O'clock
The auditorium show gets under way at 8 o'clock, and while tickets should be produced for admission, the mayor explained that it won't be an absolute necessity. Tickets may be obtained at City hall.

Organized for weeks past, the Community Chest organization confidently inaugurates the 1936 drive with the hope that the community will give generous support to the eight agencies whose fund it will benefit.

At General Chairman Pyle's side in the campaign will be his energetic assistant chairman, A. L. Bantz, Jr.

At the head of the Advanced Gifts section is Mr. McAfee and at the head of the important Larger Employed Group division is Walter W. Duff, the man who led the recent drive in behalf of a new library here. Numa F. Vidal, Jr., heads the zone and district chairmen and the women's division of the drive will have Mrs. Robert A. Eckles as its leader.

Teams To Start
Right after the campaign's opening on Tuesday night, the host of team workers will commence their solicitation. The Junior Chamber of Commerce has organized a "flying squadron" for the campaign and will furnish "minute men" to make special contacts.

Other civic groups likewise are pledging their aid and financial contributions. Participating in the 1936 Chest are the following agencies, the quotas of which are listed beside them:

Margaret L. Henry Children's home, $9,295.
Salvation Army, $2,935.
City Rescue Mission, $4,770.
Boy Scouts, $8,100.
Girl Scouts, $3,460.
Y. M. C. A., $11,320.
Y. W. C. A., $9,765.
New Castle hospital, $10,725.

Non-participating agencies this year are the Jamison Memorial hospital and the Almira home. Last year the Jamison hospital conducted its own two-year drive for funds.

The quotas given beside the agencies above include their absolute minimum need for 1937 operation plus a 10 per cent allowance for shrinkage in payments and a proportionate allowance for the cost of the campaign itself.

Mayor McGrath today gave out this general sketch of the "Towne party" program.

Stringed instrument selections. Orchestral numbers. Tap dancing. Recitations. Comedy skits. Vocal solos. Glee club. Smoked brothers from Rochester. Several dance numbers. Movie reel.

Loss Of $100 Sustained In Blaze On Hamilton Street Sunday Afternoon

Firemen saved the home of Samuel Funkhouser, of 1929 Hamilton street, in Shenango township, and the adjoining residence Sunday afternoon, when they responded to an alarm from Box 59. A loss of around $100 was sustained, the fire starting from an overheated stove.

At 8:15 Sunday morning, B. Truck and Fourth ward companies were called to the home of Mrs. Wilhelmina Honkonen, rear 628 Forest street, when foot fell down an unused chimney and scorched the mantel and a cedar chest, damaging some clothes also. The loss was around $15.

No. 3 fire truck, which has been stationed at the Fourth ward engine house, suffered a broken axle on Forest street, which is exceedingly rough. The damage was repaired Sunday and the truck was put back in service again in a short time.

Fink Presides At Session Of Council

During councilmanic meeting at the city hall this morning J. Leon Fink, finance director, as vice president of that body, presided as chairman, due to the holding of police court by Mayor Charles E. McGrath. He informed colleagues that there will be held at State college, November 20-21, a conference on finance.

He said the main topic would be the 10 per cent mill proposition and said, he believed that not only he but also Controller Earl Wimer should attend the conference.

Under the new plan cities, Fink said, would not be allowed to have a tax levy of more than 10 mills, exclusive of that for debt. The present millage is 11½, nine for general revenue, two for sinking fund purposes and one half for library.

In preparing a bread dressing, dice and brown bacon together with the onion before adding to bread crumbs. Moisten and season the dressing as usual. The bacon and onion browned together add a splendid flavor.

Strive To End Pacific Strike

McGrady Evolves Plan For Bringing Peace To Pacific Waterfront

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Striving in every possible way to free the Pacific coast of the paralyzing shipping tieup, Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady concentrated his efforts today on evolving some peace plan between shippers and the sailor's unions of the Pacific, one of the seven west coast maritime unions whose 37,000 members have been on strike since midnight Oct. 29.

Despite repeated efforts proposals and counter-proposals, McGrady has been rebuffed time and again, but apparently was more determined than ever today to remain in San Francisco until the strike is ended.

Discovers Key

After numerous conferences he believed he had at last discovered the key to possible peace. He was reasonably confident the sailors' union of the Pacific holds the key.

It was recalled that Harry Lundberg, leader of the sailor's union forced the present strike because the 9,000 men he represents were refused demands for a hiring hall system similar to that created under the 1934 arbitration awarded for the international longshoremen's association.

The sailors also want cash for overtime instead of time off.

If McGrady is successful in effecting a peace pact between the sailors and shippers, it was believed agreements with the several other unions could be drawn up without unusual difficulty.

One of the accidents caused by skidding resulted in lacerations about the face of Mary McConnell, small girl of R. D. 4. She was riding with her father, Thomas, when his car skidded into the machines of Lee Hamilton, Slippery Rock, and Mrs. Gladys Leonhardt, this city, which previously had skidded and crashed on the hill at Harlansburg.

Kenneth Lerner, of Youngstown, and Manuel Weinstock, manager of a studio here, were treated for lacerations Sunday afternoon at the Jamieson Memorial hospital, following an automobile accident on the Youngstown road.

Mayor To Attend Crime Conference

Event Will Be Held At Harrisburg On December 1 And 2

Members of council in session at city building today authorized Mayor Charles E. McGrath to attend the conference on crime which will be held at Harrisburg, December 1 and 2.

The motion was put and passed following receipt of an invitation to city officials from Charles J. Margiotti, attorney-general of the state. A legislative resolution passed in July, authorized the conference.

Coming at this time it is believed that the mayor will be accompanied by Chief of Police Ralph Criswell.

During the past nine days two robberies in prominent sections of the city have been staged, the cash loot reaching more than $800.00.

The robbery at the bus station and New Castle Drug Store here, and a drug store at Youngstown, were discussed informally today by councilmen.

Some of them were of the belief that the operations were carried on by a gang which operate across the Pennsylvania-Ohio state line.

Post Notice Of Wage Increase

Formal notification of the increase in wages to employees of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation was posted today on the bulletin boards of the Shenango and New Castle Works.

The notice follows:

To all plants and employees of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation.

The proposed wage increase, coupled with the Adjustment of Occupational Rates, and based upon the Cost of Living Formula, which you and the Management have been considering for sometime, has received the hearty approval of a great majority of the Plants and the Employees of this Company, and will therefore be the policy of the Management in all Plants of the Company, effective Monday, November 16, 1936, for a period of one (1) year.

Teacher Sues For Truck Accident

William G. Carlon Asks $1,585.50 From Samuel Cooper For Car And Injuries

William G. Carlon of 1240 East Washington street has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Samuel Cooper of Ashland, O., in which he asks $1,585.50 as the result of an automobile accident on the Youngstown hill.

Carlon relates that he was teaching school in Youngstown, O., and was driving back and forth. On March 17, 1936 he was on his way to Youngstown and was up the Youngstown hill as far as the sharp curve when he saw a truck belonging to the defendant, stopped on the same side of the road as he was driving.

There were other cars passing the truck coming toward the city and the plaintiff could not go around the truck. He stopped, got out, and went to see what was the matter. He found one man at the wheel and another placing ashes under the truck.

Going back to his car he was about to pull out and go around the truck when it suddenly started back and ran into him. His car was practically demolished and he received such a severe nervous shock that he was later compelled to give up his school at Youngstown.

The damage to his car is placed at $550, loss of time, $35.50 and nervous shock, $1000. It is alleged that the brakes on the truck were defective.

Dr. Miller Is Rotary Speaker

Slippery Rock School Head Discusses Education At Club Luncheon

Dr. Charles S. Miller, president of Slippery Rock State Teachers' college, discussed the advance of education before members of the Rotary club at The Castleton today.

Dr. Miller only recently became a member of the local club.

The educator compared the philosophies which underlie the educational systems of foreign countries and, after comparing them, praised the American philosophy which considers it "the business of education to train young men and young women to the fullest capacity of their ability."

Dr. Miller said at another point in his address that "schools must keep in tune with changing conditions."

Another Suspect In Bus Station Robbery Is Held

Several New Castle city detectives, accompanied by local witnesses, were to leave for Youngstown this afternoon to view a second suspect taken by Youngstown police today in connection with bus terminal holdup here at midnight on Saturday, November 7.

The suspect is held in the Youngstown jail.

Local Armenians Have Anniversary Party On Saturday

Second Anniversary Party Held At Orr's Hall Saturday Evening

The local chapter of the Armenian Federation gathered Saturday evening in Orr's hall, Grove street, for their second anniversary party. About 50 members and friends were present and out of town visitors were present from Ambridge, Pittsburgh and nearby vicinity.

A very elaborate and entertaining program was arranged and presented under the direction of the general chairman, John Paul. The following persons took part in the well arranged program: piano solo by Florence Paul, address by Jack Paul, Mrs. Mary Kludjian then rendered a song, and this was followed by a violin solo by Harry Paul.

At this point in the program a novel boxing match was enjoyed in which Sam and Paul Altunian 7 and 9 years of age exchanged punches with their father Steve Altunian, a former boxer acting as referee. Sam was awarded the decision at the end of the bout. Both boys were visiting the party from Ambridge.

Mary and Lucy Solomon were heard from in a duet. Interesting and entertaining a recitation was given by Vachag and Arpinia Hogopian. As something out of the ordinary, a mandolin solo was played by George Phillian, Eva Phillian, John Kludjian and Ara Paul completed the program with songs and recitation.

Father: Valohawisz of the Polish Orthodox church spoke to those assembled on nationalism. Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Stephen Kludjian, John Paul and Arman Hogopian. Dancing both American and oriental completed the entertainment of the evening.

Two Erie Men Auto Victims

Erie Has Had 27 Auto Fatalities So Far This Year, Is Report

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., Nov. 16.—Deaths of two men struck by automobiles here over the week-end today brought to 27 the city's total of automobile fatalities for 1936. The figure was only one below the all-time high for local automobile deaths set in 1934.

The victims were Edward Morello, 24-year-old WPA investigator, struck by a car driven by Henry Amthor, chief district WPA engineer, and Joseph Majchrzak, 60, fatally injured when he stepped into the path of a car driven by William E. McCain, president of the Erie Steel & Supply company, according to police.

Both drivers were released on their own recognizance pending inquests, no date for which were immediately set.

AROUND CITY HALL

Indications point to a continuation of the street paving program here despite the advice of City Engineer Glenn R. Throop, who by letter to council said that from his experience he does not believe council should gamble on the weather this winter, adding, in his opinion a satisfactory paving cannot be laid on frozen subgrade.

Orders have been issued to city policemen that as soon as the North Jefferson street hill becomes slippery they are to immediately convert the traffic light into a blinker which will warn cars descending the hill that there is apt to be cross traffic. Cars in Grant street are supposed also to obey the Stop sign.

NEW CASTLE MAN IS SENTENCED TO JAIL

BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 16.—Charged with assault and battery and desertion and non-support William Francis Jenkins of New Castle, was arrested Saturday.

In a hearing before Alderman John W. Bixler, Jenkins pleaded guilty to the assault and battery charges made by his wife Mrs. Irene Jenkins of Cosco Mines, and was sentenced to ten days in the Butler county jail.

He will be given a hearing on the desertion and non-support charges at a later date.

Two Party System For State Ballot

HARRISBURG, Nov. 16.—Pennsylvania's election ballot has returned to a straight two-party system for the first time in more than twenty-five years.

Unofficial returns indicated all the twenty-one "third party" groups failed to qualify for places on the ballot because they polled an insufficient vote in the Presidential election, and that only the Democratic and Republican parties were entitled to ballot positions at the next election.

The election laws provided that a party or body of electors, to be recognized legally, must poll 2 per cent of the total vote cast in the state for the leading elected candidate.

FIVE CHILDREN DIE AS HOME IS BURNED

Tragedy Occurs Near Irwin, Pa.

Children Asleep In Home As Fire Develops And Rescue Is Impossible

FATHER IS BURNED IN RESCUE EFFORT

(International News Service)
IRWIN, Pa., Nov. 16.—From the smoldering wreckage of a miner's house in the little mining village of Hahntown nearby, firemen early today recovered the charred bodies of five of the seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gubanic, Sr.

The victims of the holocaust, believed caused by an overheated kitchen stove, were: John Gubanic, 21; Helen, 14; Michael, Jr., 11; Theresa, 6, and Paul, 4. Two others, Peter, 15, and Mary, 16, escaped a like fate because they were attending a party and arrived to find firemen hopelessly battling the furious blaze.

Easy Prey To Fire.
Situating on a hill the five-room house fell an easy prey to the flames which were lashed by a high wind. Firemen were forced to wait until the blazing timbers burned themselves out and cooled before they could begin search for the bodies.

Mrs. Gubanic was overcome by smoke and prostrated by grief. In a serious condition, she was being cared for by relatives. Gubanic, a miner employed by the Westmoreland Coal company, was burned in a vain attempt to rescue his children.

The victims were asleep on the second floor of the small house. Their escape was quickly cut off by smoke and flame. Gubanic and his wife were on the first floor.

Firemen, summoned by neighbors, came from Irwin, Latimer and Westmoreland City. But before they arrived, the house had already been destroyed.

Portersville Man Tries To Convince Court He's Alive

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 16.—A Portersville farm hand, listed in Allegheny county court records as a murder victim in 1929, today faced a perplexing problem of convincing the Allegheny county authorities that he is alive.

The coroner's office records here reveal that John Kachnyez, "died" October 1, 1929, from injuries suffered two days before in a fight.

It is recorded that the man with whom he was supposed to have fought "over a cigarette" was tried and acquitted in connection with Kachnyez's "death." Witnesses at the investigation identified photographs of the "dead" man. An insurance company paid a claim on the "victim."

Finally, the "victim" appeared at the coroner's office to amaze officials and the claim department of the insurance company with a solemn pronouncement that he is "still alive," contrary to what the records may say.

County officials, who, so far, have refused to correct their records, and officials of the insurance company believe the identification of photographs was made in good faith, and that the whole affair was only a case of mistaken identity.

Nevertheless, Kachnyez remains legally "dead," pending a correction he hopes officials will make soon in their records.

Y.W.C.A., Chest Agency, Stands Ready To Aid Girls

Membership in the Young Women's Christian Association, one of the eight social and welfare agencies represented in the 1936 Community Chest campaign for $60,370 is commitment to the purpose of the Association.

To be a member means to carry responsibility. The membership is always smaller in number than the group to whom services and opportunities are offered. This year there are 900 adult members but over 4,000 in clubs, classes and other services in the New Castle Y. W. C. A.

Set Up Programs Yearly
The yearly fall "setting up" conference brings together the leaders of all these groups to "set up" the program for the year. Business girls, home women, school girls, foreign born women, experienced committee women from Negro and white groups offer suggestions from whatever they have found successful and decide together how they can put into effect the emphases which have been chosen for this biennium by our delegates at the National Convention of the Young Women's Christian Association. These were:

(1) Religion, to make our Christian purpose truly operative in our Association life; (2) Leadership, opportunity for "Y" leaders to work together and to grow in common understanding of one another; (3) Integration of constituent groups within the Association in order that there may be understanding of the relation of each to the whole Association and (4) Educational Emphasis on the development of the whole individual.

Understanding between groups is the crying need of our generation. The ability to put oneself in another's shoes gives the background for a much better hearing of one's own ideas. Older club and committee women are always agreeably surprised by the ability and good will of younger club members and each comes to understand and desire to help the other. This is the meaning of the word "Association" in the Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. is classed as a group work organization but group work inevitably goes back to the individual in the group and to her development as was shown by the membership playlet written by one of the recruiting committee of the Senior Girl Reserves. It portrayed a snobbish young girl who strayed along with her nose in the air until she was invited to join the Girl Reserves, whereupon through kindness and responsibility she became a friendly loyal member.

Another Aided By Work
Another girl who was already a friendly fine leader in her group but not enjoying robust health through her adviser was sent to Camp East Brook where she partook, among other things, of the 1271 quarts of milk consumed by East Brook campers this season.

Her mother says it has made a different girl of Mary Margaret giving her the pep and vitality her spirit needed.

Still another girl is served in another way. Stella's mother came from Poland and somehow Stella had acquired an inferiority complex which displayed itself in lack of understanding between herself and her mother until coming into a "Y" club she learned of the culture and courtesy of Poland and of how much Poland had done for America when America was seeking its independence in 1776. Then Stella could look on her mother and her mother's country with a new respect and she lost her inferiority complex because she knew she had something to give.

The Senior High Girl Reserves club is so large that in order to do good individual work it is broken up into six interest groups of 30 members each taking dramatics, basketball, knitting, bowling, handicraft and chorus work. These classes or interest groups, alternate every week with speakers, discussions and worship services for the entire club of 195 where the principal of democratic government are learned by practice.

Many people seem surprised to know that the Y. W. C. A. furnishes free beds for any young girl who is in trouble. Sometimes this may be an unmarried expectant mother whose family have thrown her out, sometimes it is just a girl seeking a job in another community where she has relatives who say they can get her work if she can "thumb" her way to them.

'Cosmopolitan Hospitality'
The Y. W. C. A. is not just for homeless girls, nor only for girls who can "afford it," not just for unemployed girls, nor, again, for only a select few. But a hospitality for all girls.

A cosmopolitan hospitality that recognizes cosmopolitan interests, that offers to a variety of girls a variety of interests, a variety of things to do—normal, modern activities—test they seek them elsewhere.

What do girls seek in their leisure—swimming? clubs? social activities? craft? discussion?

What do they seek in trouble—advice? A place to sleep? Friendship? Opportunity?

Not just today but every day it's open house at the Y. W. C. A. extending a warm, friendly hospitality to thousands of girls each year—a place to meet friends—to make friends—to do things—to "live."

A bushel of wheat usually weighs 60 pounds and can be made into 42 pounds of flour 8 3-5 pounds of bran, and 9 2-5 pounds of shorts.

Motorists are even smarter than we thought!

1160 out of 1214 motorists proved in their own cars the superiority of a "mystery gas" over 54 other gasolines. That "mystery gas" was BLUE SUNOCO.

Year after year we've stated that just one test tankful of Blue Sunoco would prove its outstanding performance. And now more than 1200 motorists have proved this statement . . . proved it conclusively.

WHO MADE THESE TESTS?

The Ross Federal Research Corporation, a nationally known organization, went into fourteen widely separated cities. In each, they asked approximately one hundred motorists to contribute their services in testing ten gallons of a "mystery" gasoline. This gasoline was Blue Sunoco—but it could not be identified because the blue coloring had been omitted. The E. W. Saybolt Co. certified that it was regular Blue Sunoco.

HOW THE TESTS WERE MADE

The Ross Federal men in the fourteen cities put this "mystery" gasoline into the empty tanks of the test cars, which included practically all makes. Later, other Ross Federal investigators called upon these motorists and asked a few simple questions. Statements of those already using Blue Sunoco have been omitted from the compilation.

● Ninety-five out of every hundred motorists stated emphatically that the "mystery gas" (Blue Sunoco) had improved the performance of their cars . . . eighty-seven per cent said it gave them quicker starting than the gasoline they had been using.

SUPERIOR TO 54 OTHER GASOLINES

These motorists compared Blue Sunoco against the amazing total of fifty-four other gasolines—eleven being premium priced . . . and Blue Sunoco's superiority was proven so completely that no one can deny it is America's outstanding motor fuel. If you want further proof, make this same test in your own car—but only when the gas tank is almost empty so that Blue Sunoco will not be diluted by a weaker gasoline. Test a tankful . . . today!

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Fight On Over Congress Posts

North And West Ask Consideration In Administration Emoluments

SOUTH HAS MOST OF POSITIONS NOW

Central Press Washington Bureau 602 Times-Herald Bldg. By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Friction between the south, the north and the west is a strong probability when the national administration and congress begin to reorganize themselves early in 1937.

The south, with much justification, always has considered itself the Democratic party's backbone since the war of secession.

When Democracy has won, Dixie invariably has insisted that it, principally, was responsible for it, and has demanded a preponderant share of the emoluments accordingly.

Its title to them largely has been recognized heretofore, but now there is some northern and western disposition to question them—or, at least, their proportions.

SECTIONAL JEALOUSY

At the beginning of the 1936 campaign this much was conceded: President Roosevelt was at an advantage because he had a solid south back of him, to an absolute certainty; Governor Landon had no such northern and western certainty.

Therefore the south put a high value on itself.

Now the south wants to cash in on its pre-election rating. The north and the west urgently ask consideration for what they actually delivered.

There is jealousy between them.

A ROW IN HOUSE

A row will break in connection with the organization of the house of representatives.

The senate does not signify. The presiding officer there is specified automatically—Vice President John N. Garner, a Texas southerner. Nobody disputes that job—although it is complained that Texas is over-represented on Capitol Hill and in executive councils.

Nor is it disputed that William B. Bankhead of Alabama is entitled to the house speakership. He is an other southerner. Nevertheless, he gravitates toward the speakership by right of seniority, of which the house is very respectful.

However, Bankhead's health is extremely poor; he may not be able to hold the speakership long.

If not, the south wants to succeed him.

Contrariwise northern and western statesmanship think that they should do so.

NATURAL HEIR

Now, the natural heir to the speakership is the house majority leader, which was Congressman Bankhead's post under the speakership of Joseph W. Byrns of Tennessee, who died recently. Bankhead was too ill, however, for active duty during most of his last term.

and Congressman Edward T. Taylor of Colorado substituted for him. This would seem to put Taylor in line.

Still, inasmuch as Taylor was merely a substitute leader, his title to the succession may be disputed with some reason. Besides, he is pretty old (78) and there have been reports that he considered the work even of his temporary leadership too heavy for him. While liking him very well personally, the south hopes that in this way he really does feel about it, for Dixie wants one of its own sons to be next on the list for the speakership.

But if Taylor is eliminated, it generally is considered that, as an alternative to the majority leader, the chairman of the rules committee ranks all others in his right to claim promotion.

O'CONNOR'S ADVANTAGE

The chairman of the rules committee, however, is not a southerner, either. He is Congressman John J. O'Connor of New York City—and also personally well liked by Dixie-landers but geographically wholly unsatisfactory to them.

Either Congressman Sam Rayburn of Texas or Congressman John E. Rankin of Mississippi would be the south's choice for the house's rostrum.

Both are old-timers on Capitol Hill (older than O'Connor) but O'Connor cannot be shoved aside in the speakership line without disregard of the precedent giving him priority by virtue of his rules committee chairmanship. It is a precedent which has been broken but not without causing plenty of ill feeling.

SOUTH HOLDS ALL POSTS

In the senate and house alike there is northern and western disquietude because southern senators and representatives are at the head of most of the important committees.

These chairmanships are highly prized and really do have much importance. Almost invariably they are awarded on a seniority basis.

Now, the north and west have at present many more Democratic senators and representatives than the south, but the southerners, with few exceptions, are seniors.

Thus the senior southern tail wags the northern and western majority, but junior, dog.

SOUTH TO MEET DEMANDS

There is sure to be a strenuous northern and western demand for a majority readjustment when congress gets to organizing in January. It is equally sure that the south will resist it furiously.

The merits of the case are not purely northern and western. The south's contention is that it bore the burden and heat of the day; now it wants to be rewarded.

There will be a similar fight for appointive preference.

Of that, however, hereafter.

GUEST IN CAR IS KILLED IN CRASH

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 16.—Lawrence Dillinger, 19, of Titusville suffered fatal injuries when the car in which he was riding with Elmer Ohl, 19, of Titusville, swung from Spring street into Main street there Saturday night, crashing into a tree.

Dillinger suffered a fractured skull and died 10 minutes after being taken to Titusville hospital. Ohl, who contends that Dillinger was driving the car, is being held.

CROTON MEN WILL MEET THIS EVENING

Men of the Croton district will meet at the Croton Avenue M. E. church this evening when the monthly social session of the Men's Brotherhood will take place at 7:45.

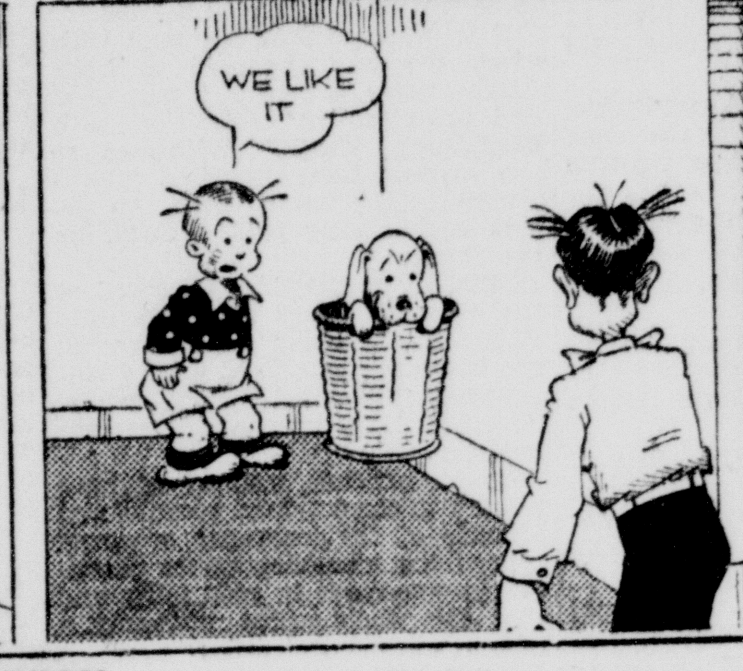

William Francis will be the speaker of the evening, and there will also be entertainment and refreshments, which will be furnished by the trustees.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

My New York

By James Aswell

Copyright, 1936, Central Press Association
NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Fernand Gravet is a young French movie star recently imported to this country to spice the Warner products. He is known, in addition, as the "richest actor in the world."

I had a chat with him the other day, and I think he's worth some clinical examination in this place because movie stars are undergoing a subtle personality change anyhow and he is highly representative of the new trend.

Perhaps Hollywood will spoil him. I wouldn't be able to prophesy about that. But it was astonishing to learn that he held the movie capital in profound awe. He views himself as a hard-working career man and he feels like a young surgeon struggling terrifically to make ends meet, who has been suddenly called to Rochester to do some difficult operations for the Mayo Brothers.

I made bold to point out to him that, with intelligence and a sound Continental experience behind him, he shouldn't be afraid of the competition likely to be encountered on the West Coast.

"But Hollywood! Think of it. When my friend, Mervyn LeRoy asked me to come, I said, 'You couldn't possibly want me in Hollywood. Why, they have the best actors in the world there. What could I do? It's like being summoned to Heaven!'"

And this was no excess of modesty on the part of M. Gravet (who will, by the way, probably change his name a little because people have already started introducing him as "Mr. Gravy.") He believed every word of it. Believed it despite the fact that the critics of Europe have acclaimed him one of the most promising young mimes in years.

I asked him what his interests were, besides acting.

"The horses," he replied brightly. "I like to ride in the races."

"You mean you are a jockey?"

"Oh, yes. I always go to the races and ride. I hope to go to some races in America and ride."

Your reporter pointed out to him the difficulties which would await him if he attended the races at Santa Anita or Belmont and volunteered to ride.

"Oh, I ride my own horses all ways," he smiled. "I am thinking of bringing over a few from my stable some time this year."

And then, of course, I remembered that M. Gravet is the richest actor in the world. He and Bing Crosby, another ardent horseman, will probably find a lot in common. Of course M. Gravet specializes in trotters and there are not many opportunities for trotting tests beyond the annual meet at Goshen, N. Y. M. Gravet might arrange a personal appearance tour, which would include visits to the county fairs in which he could enter a string of trotters every year.

M. Gravet, who is of medium height, slender and dark-eyed, is a Belgian by birth, and retains his citizenship in that country. He is a keen student of politics and if it is true that he possesses some $20,000,000 he must be up on finance, too, in order to swing on to it. He was educated at Oxford.

"Please say there will be no war," he begged. "No war in Europe for a long time. The newspapers exaggerate, you know. And you have been reading a lot of nonsense over here about the French situation. Why, I saw some American papers and you'd think Paris was knee-deep in blood. No such thing. Indeed, all was quiet when I left. Quiet and peaceful. Please say that. I hope to be able to retain my racing stable for several years, despite the taxes, because I am in the breeding business. France is kind to those in the breeding business and the tax is not so high."

BESSEMER

WYONA CHAPTER

The Wyona Chapter of the Westminsters Guild gathered at the home of Mrs. M. Hedegore on Thursday evening, and enjoyed the regular monthly meeting, when Miss Margaret Carlson and Miss Eleanor Throop acted as associate hostesses. There were 19 members present and Miss Esther Nord was leader of devotionals which were very interestingly presented. After a short business meeting a social time in charge of Miss Ruth Hultiz and Mrs. Thelma Engle filled the evening until refreshments were ready and these were served cafeteria style, and were much enjoyed by everyone present. The next meeting will be the Christmas meeting when an exchange of a 10 cent gift will be held and the big feature of the evening will be a tureen dinner.

EDENBURG YOUTH DEBATING

Robert Byler of Edenburg, who is attending Muskingum college at New Concord, O., recently accompanied the Muskingum debate team to Columbus. The debaters spent three days on the Ohio State campus and in the state law libraries there. This year the Muskingum men are debating the subject "Resolved: That the several states should adopt a one-house system of legislature, constitutionality conceded."

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

ADJUSTMENT IMPORTANT

"DEAR DR. MYERS: I am a stranger to you, but have wanted to write to you for some time and tell you how much I enjoy and also agree with your articles which appear in our local paper."

"You may wonder about my interest in your line of work. I am a kindergarten teacher and I have taught in—for 20 years. I believe my greatest interest in my work is not how much knowledge the child absorbs, or that he learns to carry a tune or draw well, but how well he does adjust himself to the group, and how he is his behavior and character training developing."

"It seems to me that is the most important thing with the small child. I do not mean to leave the others out, because parents and teachers will nearly always take care of them and quite often overlook the fact that they have not helped the child to live in a group happily, so that he will be more able to adjust himself to life situations as he grows older."

"I have taken care of children during the summer and over weeks in December. I have seen the problems that parents face, and I feel I am sympathetic with them."

I do all my own housework and know how much time it takes for one person. Naturally it would be greatly increased in a family."

Mother's Voice Uncertain

"There is one thing I find true when trying to help mothers solve their behavior problems. The mother thinks her voice is firm when she speaks to her children, but really her voice sometimes is filled with so much uncertainty that the child feels 'mother is not in earnest.' Consequently she wonders why the children do not mind her. So, if you find it possible to stress this point in some of your articles, some mothers would benefit therefrom."

I wish all teachers might have as deep interest in the whole child as this teacher evinces. Her point about the mother's voice is a good one."

Often in this column I have entreated mothers not to shriek at their children, but to keep their voices soft and low. Nevertheless, commands to be effective, must not be uttered in a halting, doubtful manner. Furthermore, the child must know from experience that back of the command is a backbone. I wonder why so many parents are jelly fishes.

On Court House Hill

Judge W. Walter Braham has handed down a decree in divorce in the case of Edna Elta Minsky against George W. Minsky on Thursday evening, and enjoyed the regular monthly meeting, when Miss Margaret Carlson and Miss Eleanor Throop acted as associate hostesses. There were 19 members present and Miss Esther Nord was leader of devotionals which were very interestingly presented. After a short business meeting a social time in charge of Miss Ruth Hultiz and Mrs. Thelma Engle filled the evening until refreshments were ready and these were served cafeteria style, and were much enjoyed by everyone present. The next meeting will be the Christmas meeting when an exchange of a 10 cent gift will be held and the big feature of the evening will be a tureen dinner.

Beginning January 4 new registrations of persons who are not already registered will be taken at the registration bureau at the court house, according to Registration Clerk Thomas Edmunds. Those who know that their names are already on the books do not need to register again unless they have changed their places of residence, in which event the changes should be made known. It is not necessary to wait until January 4 to change addresses. This can be done at any time. Changes can also be made in party affiliations at any time.

Notes of testimony taken in the case of J. S. Waslewski against the county of Lawrence have been written out by Court Stenographer F. M. Rowland and have been filed at the prothonotary's office. This is a case in which Waslewski is suing the county on a meat bill contracted by Sheriff Pritchard. When the case was up for hearing a non-suit was granted at the request of the defendant. A motion was immediately made by the plaintiff's attorney to take off the non-suit. Arguments were deferred until the notes of the testimony are written out.

In the case of Samuel M. and Jacob Levinson, partners trading as Levinson & Son, against Tom Alanisky, Judge W. Walter Braham has handed down an opinion in which he refuses to strike off a statement of claim. The case is one involving a clothing bill of $272.69. The defendant claims that the plaintiffs' original entry on the books, which was not. Other reasons for not paying the bill are also given, and a hearing will be held to determine the matter.

It is probable that before the next primary election steps will be taken to divide some of the more populous voting precincts of the county. According to Registration Clerk Thomas Edmunds there are 16 precincts in the county where the registration is so large that election boards have trouble. The precincts were handled satisfactorily at the recent election for the reason that there were so many "straight" tickets voted. It only took the voter a half minute or less in the booth. When it comes to a primary election where there are long lists of candidates, the time required for the average voters to pick out the candidates for whom he wishes to vote will likely take him several minutes. With the large registrations as at present, it is believed that election boards would be unable to take care of voters in the crowded precincts.

The Sylvania Corporation has just recorded a number of oil and gas leases in Scott and Slippery Rock townships. The leases entered from Scott township were given by Joseph L. Burton, Ella Campbell, Fred Hammerschmidt, Elizabeth Harlan, L. C. John, John A. Johnson, W. H. McMurray, Kit Richard, James E. Shaw, Lulu Stoughton, G. G. Wimer, Nettie Jordan Bell, J. A. Johnson and J. H. McCalmont.

The Slippery Rock township leases recorded were given by Chester E. Hunt, L. W. Hunt, P. M. McCormick, S. J. Noss, H. E. Stoner, Harry B. Trusel, J. S. Fox, D. C. Stoner, Guy H. Wimer and Bessie R. Rhodes. Other leases are being taken up in the sections indicated and a thorough test of the land will be made. Wells have already been drilled in this section and gas and oil have been obtained. It is now proposed to drill to deeper sands.

According to geological experts, this territory should be traversed by oil sands extending from Oil City and Franklin districts to the West Virginia oil fields. More than 50 years ago a Philadelphia company sent its experts to Scott township and acquired a tract of land just southeast of Harlansburg, but it was never developed. Since that time several wells have been drilled by other companies. Considerable gas and small quantities of oil have been found, but never in such quantities as to cause any great excitement. Oil men believe that the black gold exists in this neighborhood in paying quantities if only their drills can pierce the "belt". The territory just leased will be subjected to deep drilling as a final test.

HELD IN JAIL

ON SUSPICION

George Bashor is in the city jail charged by police with suspicion the result of the alleged theft of two employees' overcoats at Penney's store Saturday. Police found one of the overcoats in a pawnshop, they report, following which Bashor was arrested. He confessed, according to Police Chief Criswell, to having taken the coats.

DUQUESNE WINS PITTSBURGH TITLE

By PAUL R. ALLERUP
International News Service
Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—There were many fine college football games in Pennsylvania Saturday (Who, for instance, can forget that grand fight put up by the Nittany Lions of Penn State against an overwhelmingly favored Penn eleven?) But this piece will side-track the big fellows today and extend a hand to the fightingest "little team in the state."

The palm goes to Shippensburg Teachers, scored upon only once in seven games against better than even competition, and beaten not at all. It is the only undefeated, untied team—big or small—in the commonwealth, and so rates more than passing attention.

Rha' Shippensburg
Saturday, the all-winning Red Raiders downed a strong Indiana aggregation, 14-0, and in the doing compiled as good a record as just about any team in the land. In the seven games played, Shippensburg has rolled up 165 points while permitting a lone touchdown.

For blood and thunder and all the hip-hip which goes to make college football and sporting attraction it is, the nod goes to the aforementioned Philadelphia classic which Penn won, 19-12. The Nittany Lions lost, but who will deny that in the losing they made the sort of grid history which is talked about for years afterward in the dormitories, the clubs, and the frat houses?

Pitt's Panthers, probably the strongest team in the state, though both beaten and tied, traveled half way across the country to defeat Nebraska on its home field, 19-6.

Dukes Top Tech
Duquesne, in beating Carnegie Tech, 13-0 at Pittsburgh, capped the mythical "city championship" of smoky town. For the second successive time, The Dukes flashed the sort of form which gave them their never-to-be-forgotten 7 to 0 upset victory over mighty Pitt some weeks ago.

Just as hard-fought as everyone expected it would be, was the Temple-Villanova game in the Quaker city. For three quarters the Wildcats and the Owls battled scorelessly. In the final period, Pop Warner's boys cracked one over and the score stood 6-0. And that's where it ended, with Villanova able to hold its head as high as ever.

Battle To The End
Nominated for the honor of the most devastating scoring machine of the week is Franklin and Marshall. When the holocaust at Carlisle was over, the scoreboard showed: F. and M., 71-Dickinson, 10. Ouch!

Allegheny and Westminster battled to a 7-7 deadlock in another spell-binder, with Ursinus and Gettysburg ending up in a similar deadlock at Collegeville.

Bethany Wins
Handsome scores were the lot of Bethany, which beat Morris Harvey, 49 to 0, at Bethany, W. Va., and West Chester Teachers, which landed on Washington College, 41-6, at West Chester.

Other one-sided affairs included Albright's 26-7 besting of Lebanon Valley; Lafayette's defeat of Moravian, 28-7; Lehigh's 26-7 advantage over Muhlenberg and Ram-Macon's 20-0 smothering of Haverford.

Some other scores were: California Teachers 13, Clarion 0; Bloomsburg 7, E. Stroudsburg Teachers 0; Lock Haven, 14, Mansfield 0; Slippery Rock 14, Thiel 6; Ithaca 12, Grove City 7.

HURN HITS 298
Johnny Hurn, bowling duckpins with the Coke team in the Shenango Tin House duxpin league at the Castle alleys, rolled a 298 game on Saturday night. Just two pins from a perfect game. Last year Hurn rolled a perfect 300 game and came near entering the bowling hall of fame two years in a row.

National Hockey League results: Toronto 1, Chicago 1 (overtime); Montreal Maroons 2, Detroit 2 (overtime); Boston 2, Montreal Canadiens 1. New York Americans 2, New York Rangers 1.

Hornsby Gets New Contract

Roger Hornsby Will Get Full Support Of New St.
Louis Browns
Syndicate

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 16.—Rogers Hornsby will sign a new contract as manager of the St. Louis Browns, it was learned today following a long conference between the Rajah and the new owners of the American League club.

"We intend to give Hornsby our 100 percent support," Donald Barnes and William Dewitt, president and vice president of the syndicate which has acquired the club from the Phil Hall estate declared.

"Hornsby will have complete charge of the club on the field and whatever disciplinary measures he deems necessary to conduct and keep the team at its best moral and playing strength will receive our whole hearted approval," Barnes said.

In his new contract, it was learned, Hornsby will give up his right to 25 percent of the club's profits in

Sons Of Italy Meet Sunday

Observe 14th Anniversary At King Humbert Hall—Fine Program

Fourteen years of service were celebrated Sunday afternoon by the Trionfo Italiano Lodge No. 1171, Order of Sons of Italy, when over 500 members met in King Humbert Hall on Division street. Seventy-five new members were initiated with impressive ceremonies.

For the speaking program, a number of local and visiting speakers had been secured, all of whom spoke in laudatory terms of the work of the order. Venerable Cosmo Gallasio presided over the meeting, with the following making addresses: Rev. Fr. N. DeMita pastor of St. Vitus church, Dr. John Palazzo, Nick Gesue, venerable of local juvenile lodge, Sons of Italy, Mrs. A. Berardi, venerable of Ellwood City lodge and Angelo Squicquero, grand deputy. The closing speaker was State Grand Trustee Joseph Paridale, of Swissvale. He was accompanied from Swissvale by his wife and daughter Elizabeth.

Entertainment Program

Solos were presented by Mrs. Helen Tuscano, Master Louis Cavaricci, Theresa Donofrio and Michael Turco. Music was furnished throughout the afternoon by the orchestra conducted by Louis Gasparri. Refreshments concluded the day's events. The celebration will be concluded tonight with an anniversary ball to be held in King Humbert Hall.

The success of Sunday's celebration was due to the untiring efforts of the following committee. Chair-lady, Cleo Ross, Lena Gaspar, assistant chair-lady, Adela Scarazzo, treasurer, Ida Simeone, secretary, Filomena Maciariello, reporter, Maria Berardi, Louise Conti, Nunziata Brescio, Louise Pagani, Geni Alfreda, Madeline Ciampa, Concertina Di Mucci, Theresa DiBiase, Maria Cavaricci, Adelina Voipe, Antoinetta Franzago.

Labor Convention Is Convened Today

A. F. Of L. Appears To Be Cracking Into Two Factions Over Lewis' Move

(International News Service)

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 16.—Visibly cracking into two factions, the American Federation of Labor convened here today its fifty-sixth annual convention, an epochal and dynamite-packed meeting of organized labor.

Inevitably, the old guard, craft-union A. F. of L. forces headed into the bitter fight of the past half century, over the rebellious and now suspended ten unions of John L. Lewis' committee for industrial organization.

One side bellowed for war, and counseled permanent expulsion of the Lewis movement, founded in the defiance of A. F. of L. edict, on the theory that workers should be organized into single unions for each big industry. The other side argued for moderation, contending that the rebels have already been suspended from the federation—why expel them?

Pittsburgh Man Is Found Slain

William Burns, 29, Is Found Brutally Beaten To Death In Abandoned Building

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 16.—Police and homicide detectives today were baffled in their search for clues to the brutal slaying of William Burns, 29, whose half-clad body was found in an abandoned south side building by a curious WPA worker.

The victim—his skull battered and crushed by heavy blows—apparently had lain in the building for more than 48 hours, police said. He had been missing since last Tuesday.
